Judge Moncreuf after hearing the evidence denied a divorce to the complainant, and granted Mrs. Thompson a limited divorce and custody of the four children. BERGDOLL COMMITTED

Verdict and Announcement to be Announced Later

New York, Aug. 13.—Erwin R. Bergdoll was found guilty of desertion from the army in time of war by the court martial sitting at Governor's Island and today after 5 minutes' deliberation.

Announcement of the verdict and the sentence will not be made for several days until the necessary reports have been sent to Washington and approved. The decision of the court was made clear, however, at the conclusion of the case when Bergdoll was brought again before the court and asked to agree to the records.

This action never is taken when a prisoner is found not guilty. The doubt in the mind of Bergdoll and his military counsel is the length of the sentence. Grover Bergdoll, brother of the prisoner, was given 5 years on a similar charge after he had been caught.

Counsel for Erwin pleaded that he had surrendered himself and therefore, technically, is not guilty of desertion, but simply of being absent without leave.

To Attend Meeting

J. R. Caton Will Represent Virginia at American Bar Association—Leave Monday for St. Louis.

Mr. James R. Caton will leave on Monday, the 16th instant, for St. Louis, to attend the meetings of the American Bar Association, and the Commissioners on Uniform Laws among the States. The American Bar Association has a membership of between twelve and fifteen thousand, and it is expected a large representation will be present at the St. Louis meeting. Mr. Caton is a member of the General Council of the Bar Association, representing the State of Virginia. The meeting in St. Louis of the Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, will be its thirtieth annual session. This body is composed of lawyers. There being at least two representatives from each State, the territory of Alaska, and the Philippines, Hawaii and Porto Rico. These representatives are appointed by the Governor under authority of legislative acts.

The work of the conference consists in formulating Uniform Laws to be adopted by the legislatures of the several states territories and possessions, relating to matters of general interest to all. The Negotiable Act, Bills of Lading Act, Warehouse Receipt Act, Wills Act and quite a number of other acts formulated by this conference, have been adopted by many of the states and the territories and possessions of the United States, thus making uniform the law relating to these subjects in the states adopting the Uniform Acts.

Mr. Caton is a member of the standing committees relating to uniformity in the laws of corporations, marriage and divorce, judicial decisions, declaratory judgments and scope and program.

On the subject of declaratory judgments, Mr. Caton has prepared a report and bill to be submitted to the conference at its session in St. Louis. The bill provides the courts of equity shall have authority to declare rights and other legal relations in any suit, or any interlocutory proceeding, or upon petition, whether any other relief is asked or not. This proceeding permits the ascertainment of rights and other legal relations without executorial relief, and where the procedure has been adopted has reduced largely the number of litigation cases in the courts. The procedure is comparatively new in this country, it having been adopted only within the last three years in the states of Michigan, Wisconsin and Florida. The procedure had its origin during the Roman Empire, and spread over continental Europe, particularly Spain, France, Germany and Austria, during the middle ages, and was adopted in Scotland four centuries ago, and is now employed in England and all her colonial possessions. Experience has shown that this procedure avoids much litigation and that rarely is it necessary to go beyond the declarator for executorial relief. The commissioners receive no salary, or other compensation. Their work is wholly one of interest in the public benefit to be derived from harmonizing the laws of the states upon subjects of general interest to all.

SECOND BAPTIST LEADS CONTEST

Last Sunday Total Attendance at Participating Schools Was 1611

ENDS AUGUST 29th.

In Weekly Standing Methodist Protestant and St. Paul's Are Tied With 191 Each.

Crawling steadily from fourth place on the sixth of June to first place on the eighth of August is the splendid record of the Second Baptist Sunday school in the Y. M. C. A. attendance campaign which has just closed its tenth week in all of the Sunday schools of the city.

This persistent fight on the part of the Second Baptist school has been an object of admiration to everyone interested in the great contest—and that just about includes everybody in Alexandria. St. Paul's started the contest with a per centage of 177 while the leader's per centage for the same week was only 131, but they began a persistent climb from that day to the 11th of July when they began to score larger weekly per centages than their rivals.

But in the last two or three weeks their attendance has been truly phenomenal ranging all the way from 178 per cent to the per centage of 263 this week. But in the average they only lead St. Paul's by 3 points and the leadership may again shift next week. And then there is the Methodist Protestant Sunday school that is beginning to really score just now.

The weekly standing will show that the Methodist Protestant and St. Paul's are tied with 191 each. And by an inadvertency in the original count the fifth Sunday in this month was overlooked and the contest has yet three more Sundays to go. By that time the third school will have time to overhaul the two leaders and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. refuses to even speculate on whom they will have to feed Labor Day.

Two changes are noted in the standing of the schools. One has already been mentioned, and the second is the exchanging of places by the Trinity M. E. Church and the M. E. Church South. Trinity M. E. started the contest in seventh place while the M. E. Church South was at that time in third place. The exchange of places has been gradual until this week the Trinity goes into fifth place while the larger sister across the street drops to sixth position. The difference in their average standing is only two points.

The total attendance for the day shows a splendid increase and is the largest for several weeks, being 1611. The total attendance in all schools for the entire period of the contest to date is 16,867, or an average per school of 1,874.

The summary—Second Baptist attendance 246, weeks per cent 263, average per cent 182; St. Paul's attendance 124, weeks per cent 191; average per cent 179; Methodist Protestant attendance 148, weeks per cent 191, average per cent 147; First Baptist attendance 380, weeks per cent 108, average per cent 122.

Trinity M. E. attendance 84, weeks per cent 111, average per cent 118; M. E. Church's attendance 295, weeks per cent 95, average per cent 116; Second Presbyterian attendance 140, weeks per cent 87.5, average per cent 104; Grace church attendance 106, weeks per cent 101, average per cent 103; Christ Church attendance 94, weeks per cent 63, average per cent 96.

This petition amends the original petition of the Washington and Old Dominion Railway, under which authority was sought to increase its intrastate freight rates thirty per cent.

WOMEN CAPTURE SENATE OF TENN.

Nashville, Aug. 14.—Sufrage leaders pointed out last night that ratification by the senate of the suffrage amendment gave them two ways of bringing up the resolution in the house Monday.

They are undecided whether to take the senate bill over to the house or wait for the house committee to report on the resolution. In case of delay or of unfavorable action in the house committee the senate resolution will be taken up in the lower body.

Suffrage advocates had double cause to be elated. The adoption of the resolution by the senate by a vote of 24 to 4 showed suffrage had more support there than had been expected. Moreover, the senate's action no longer leaves the amendment at the mercy of the house committee.

Adoption in the senate followed a debate of two hours. Senator Candler, chairman of the joint Republican caucus, was only one of his party with a membership of eight in the senate to vote against the resolution.

JEALOUSY SEEN BEHIND SHOOTING AND SUICIDE

Charlottesville, Va., Aug. 14.—The arrival from Christiansburg of a brother of Mrs. Hattie Chumley, whose mission is to investigate the circumstances surrounding suicide of his sister after she shot and seriously wounded Isaac J. Lang, a married man, at Carter's Bridge Sunday night; confirmation of the rumor that the night before the shooting Mrs. Chumley had become incensed at Lang's refusal to give her any more money, and the burial of the dead woman were the outstanding developments today in the affair that has stirred this vicinity.

The brother will probe the affair to the bottom, he says, and to this end will probably visit Lang at the University Hospital just as soon as he can secure a permit to visit the patient. He called at the Lang home on Green Mountain today and had a long talk with Mrs. Lang.

Jealousy is believed to have been the cause of the act on the part of the woman.

CHARGED WITH

TRANSPORTING LIQUOR

Richmond—Whether or not a negro chauffeur charged with transporting liquor believed to have been part of a recent shipment of 1,000 cases of medicinal spirits consigned from Kentucky to New York which, according to Federal Prohibition Supervisor S. R. Brame, was diverted to beverage purposes en route, should be tried under the old revenue law or under the Volstead act was a question which provoked a dispute in Federal Court today between Brame and District Attorney Hiram Smith.

Charlottesville—The Board of Aldermen and Common Council, in a special session last night, accepted the resignation of Charles W. Allen as City Attorney, and unanimously elected William O. Fife, Police Justice for the past three years to fill the vacancy.

WELCOME PLANS FOR FIREMEN

Virginia, Maryland and District of Columbia to be Represented

PARADE AUGUST 26th.

Buffet Supper For Participating Firemen—Reports Received Indicate Large Attendance.

Coming to a climax as if under the ministrations of a magic hand, the plans for the entertainment of Virginia, Maryland and District of Columbia firemen are rapidly nearing completion and prospects are that the Alexandria convention of 1920 will go down in the annals of the State Firemen's Association as one of the biggest and best ever held.

Members of the various committees have worked tirelessly to get everything in readiness for the opening of the convention on Wednesday, August 25, and although much remains to be done, these men can now see the preparations taking definite form and are promising the visitors and the residents of Alexandria something out of the ordinary when the opening day at last arrives.

Almost every hour during the past several days, telegrams have been received by Fire Chief Kenneth W. Ogden, conveying the information that some city or other throughout the state, will send a delegation to the convention and the total of visitors and delegates expected is mounting rapidly.

The city of Annapolis, Md., has sent word to this city that a delegation of fire fighters, together with an aerial truck and motor engine will attend the convention and the telegrams received yesterday contained one from Washington to the effect that Acting Chief Sullivan, with the consent of Commissioner Brownlow, of the District, will send a large number of firemen together with from three to five pieces of apparatus. Both the commissioner and the acting chief received a delegation from this city Thursday, at which time they were formally invited to participate in the convention and expressed a wish to co-operate to the fullest extent.

Another feature of the big parade, which is to be held on Thursday, August 26, will be the participation of a large number of small children of the city. About 150 boys and girls will be invited to tow the old Friendship fire engine, the ancient horse reel and plug catcher. A long rope will be attached to these pieces of apparatus, which were used in the old days, and the little boys and girls will be toggled out in blue or buff sashes, the colors that were resplendent in Colonial days. The list of children to take part in this portion of parade are requested to hand in their names to Chief Ogden before Tuesday of next week.

The route of parade, decided upon at last meeting of the general committee is as follows:

Form on south Washington street, with right resting at Prince and Washington streets; move west on Prince to West street; north on West street to King; east on King to Fairfax street; north on Fairfax to Cameron; west on Cameron to Washington; north on Washington to Wythe; countermarch on Washington to King; King street east to Pitt; Pitt street north to Cameron; Cameron street east to Royal; Royal street south to the Armory where the parade will disband and where all persons participating in the parade will be served a buffet supper.

PONZI IN JAIL

BEHIND BARS

Boston Promoter Surrendered by His Bondsman

Boston, Aug. 14.—Four men who have accepted millions of dollars from New England investors in the last few months, on promises of payment of fabulous interests were behind the bars last night. Charles Ponzi, whose spectacular financial dealings have made his name known the country over, was surrendered today by the man who furnished $35,000 bonds for his release after his arrest by the Federal authorities yesterday.

Unable to find another bondsman, Ponzi was taken to the Middlesex County jail, at East Cambridge. Three officers of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Company were arrested, taken into the Municipal Court and held in $5,000 bonds each on a technical charge of larceny of $500 from persons unknown.

In default of bonds they spent the night in the Charles Street jail. They are Charles M. Brightwell, president and treasurer of the concern; Raymond Meyers, office manager and Fred Meyers, sales agent. All three pleaded not guilty.

Winchester—Reel and hook and ladder races, band contests and company drills featured the closing of the nineteenth annual Covington and Cumberland Valley Firemen's Association. Reel races were run on a wet track with a heavy service reel running 2,500 yards, laying 150 feet of hose and making connection Six teams entered.

TROOPS 20 MILES

FROM WARSAW

Paris, Aug. 14.—Closing in upon Warsaw from the north, east and southeast, the Bolshevik hosts are now within 20 miles of the capital, and little doubt is felt here that they will be in the city before the peace negotiations are concluded.

General Hatter's army, holding positions along the Vistula, Narew and Bug rivers, in a country offering few natural advantages for defense, is being relentlessly pushed toward the capital by the Bolsheviks, who are speeding up their advance.

The northern Reds, according to the latest news reaching Paris, last night had passed Pultusk and were marching southward on the capital down the valley of the Narew. Another column was advancing between the Narew and the Bug, while south of the Bug the enemy had reached and passed the line running from Tuszcz, through Plivki, Dobro, Kaluszyn, Tsegloff and Latovitch to Zelechoff. Farther south the enemy had succeeded in forcing a passage of the Bug and was moving to Lublin.

The Bolshevik cavalry along the Prussian frontier has made another bound forward and is now 40 miles beyond Mlawka, almost half the way to Thorn.

Master Masons' Club

Expect to Complete Task of Rebuilding Clubhouse Next Month

The Master Masons' Club of this city has started rebuilding operations on their property at the southeast corner of Cameron and St. Asaph streets, and expect to have their rooms in a first-class condition early in September. Until then the member have vacated, so as to give the builders a free hand. The rebuilding operations are under the supervision of R. S. Cleveland, a local builder.

C. W. Smith, the club's secretary, recently attended the convention of the National League of Masonic Clubs, as a delegate from the local club, which was held in New York City, and reports that the idea of Masonic Clubs is growing by leaps and bound throughout the country, every state in the union being represented at the convention. There is at present another club in Richmond, Va., besides the local club.

The 1921 convention of the national body will be held in Washington, D. C. Tentative steps have already been taken by the local club to entertain the delegates and visitors in this city during convention week.

DREADNAUGHTS NOTICE

Special meeting will be held at 7.30 tonight in McBurneys Hall. All members are urgently requested to attend.

LEO P. HARLOW WEDDED IN NEW YORK

Takes as Bride Miss Caroline Giltinan Noted Literary Woman

CEREMONY TODAY

Bride Contributor to American and English Magazines—Served Overseas—Groom Well Known Attorney

A wedding of interest to Alexandrians occurred today in New York City, at the Church of Our Saviour, when Mr. Leo P. Harlow, a well known attorney of this city, and of Washington, was quietly married to Miss Caroline Giltinan, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Giltinan, of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis P. Duffy, the famous chaplain of the "Fighting 69th," New York Regiment, which served in France as the 165th U. S. Infantry.

Father Duffy and the bride were closely associated in relief work during the war, while his regiment was "in the line," she having been Secretary to the U. S. Base Hospital No. 38, The Jefferson College Unit. After her demobilization, she traveled extensively throughout France, England, Belgium and Italy, having returned to the United States within the last three months, since which time she has been engaged in special work for the Associated Press in New York City. The bride is a native of Philadelphia, graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and is the author of a widely read and highly praised book of verse. She is a regular contributor to the best current monthlies, both here and in England, her work having frequently appeared in the "Philadelphia North American," the "Boston Transcript," the "Outlook," the "American Poetry Review," "Contemporary Verse," the "Catholic World," the "London Graphic," "Lippincott's Magazine," the "Queen's Work" and other prominent magazines. Her work also appears in Mrs. Waldo Richards' "High Tide" and Jessie Rittenhouse's "Second Book of Modern Verse."

She has every year been a contributor to the Anthology of Magazine Verse, and collaborated with Joyce Kilmer, the poet in his collection of poems called "Dreams and Images." While abroad, Mrs. Harlow did special work for the U. S. Government in connection with the U. S. Consul Generalate in Brussels, Belgium, and was also associated with Herbert Hoover in food relief work in Belgium. During the peace negotiations in Paris, she acted as executive secretary to Elmer Roberts, the Head of the Associated Press in Europe.

The groom is a well known local attorney having been in active practice in the courts of Northern Virginia and the District of Columbia for a number of years past. During the war he was in active service as a captain in the Army Service Corps.

After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow will reside in Alexandria.

VA. WAR HISTORY COMMISSION

The various collaborators of the local Virginia War History Commission at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, presided over by Miss Helen N. Cummings, reported progress. Those engaged in the task are making examination of the peer war and war work of residents of this city who participated in the world war. This information will be incorporated in the history of Virginia's war activities. There will be another meeting August 25.

THE HEAVY HARDING

"I rather think," said Mr. Harding, "that I would rather be the brother of the doctor today than be a visitor who is never any longer permitted to forget that he is a candidate for office." He takes his candidacy very seriously if he cannot speak at his brother's birthday party without reminding the company that he is running for the Presidency.

The ponderous person cannot take an automobile ride without laboriously looking into every incident for material for a campaign speech. He must get terribly tired of himself. He struck some pieces of bad road and got back on to the good road as soon as he could. This suggested to him that the country has been making a detour and must get back at once to the highway. There is no doubt that he is a deep thinker, but we should like to know a little more about that detour. Does he mean the great war? Is he sorry that we got into that?

These questions are of some importance because he is running on a platform which ignored the war. It did not congratulate the country on what it accomplished, because it accomplished it under the direction of a Democratic Administration. Nothing in the enormous achievements of the country inspires his eloquence. Neither platform nor candidate have any generous recognition of what the country did for itself and for the world, or of the splendid courage and heroism and the triumphant success of our soldiers. It was all done under a Democratic Administration, and the Republicans think the less said about it the better. They do not dare to repudiate the part taken by America in the conflict with German imperialism; the country wouldn't stand it. But they will ignore it as much as they can, and when forced to recognize it they will damn it with faint praise.

We trust the 4,000,000 young Americans who responded to their country's call, and especially the 2,000,000 who astonished the world at Belleau Wood (now Marines Wood), at Chateau Thierry, at St. Mihiel, in the Argonne and in Flanders with the British, will observe how much the Republican party and its candidate care about what they did for the honor of their country and the good of the world. The only general in whom the Republicans take any interest is one who didn't go to France. He did go to Cuba 2½ years ago, but that little war, the most mismanaged in our history, was fought under a Republican Administration. Its salient features were General Alger at the head of the War Department, General Shafter in command of the troops, the "embalmed beef," the preposterous misloading of transports at Miami and Tampa, the incapacity shown in the debarkation in Cuba, the camps in this country which were pestholes, the leading down of the whole military establishment with political generals. But the Republicans are always ready to "point with pride" to that war because it occurred under a Republican President. They are silent about our decisive part in the greatest of all wars.

We had to depart from the highway of our place and prosperous civil life on account of the war in which we saved the civilization of the world, and we have been getting back to the broad and pleasant path of peace as fast as possible. The troops were brought home and demobilized, war expenditures were cut off and the Government has been withdrawing as fast as possible—too fast, we are sometimes told—from its necessary interferences with business and manufacturers and transportation. The public debt has been reduced a couple of billions from its highest point. We are not in need of Harding's belated and turgid wisdom.

SAD DAY FOR GYPSIES

The gypsies in Maryland must pack up their belongings, pull down their tents and leave the state or pay the license fee of $1,000 a family, as fixed by the last Legislature. Several hundred Rumanian gypsies have been camping on the outskirts of the city since the early spring, and all the last week they have been breaking up their homes and searching for a new place to go. It has been like being exiled to many of them, for they believe they are being driven from their homes without reason.

When told that the only way in which they could remain in the city or State was to pay the license fee, the police that they would do neither. Straggling trains of wagons, flivvers and marching gypsies, clad in brilliant colored costumes, have been leaving the city daily. The majority are going northward for the summer.

NOT ALL MILLIONAIRES

It is not surprising to hear from the income tax bureau that 20,000 persons admitted incomes of at least $50,000 in 1919. But it is probably incorrect to rate them as millionaires merely because in a year they have made what amounts to a year's interest on $1,000,000 or more.

It was inevitable that there should be a large number of fat incomes last year. The fever for spending made it easy. When half the people have pockets full of money, derived from swollen wages or the sale of Liberty bonds, the makers of fine clothing, jewelry, motor cars and all other luxuries—including those vintners' wares purchasable in half of 1919—could not help but profit.

But there is many a man in the luxury business who, although he made $50,000 in 1919, would be glad to sell out for one half of that million which he is popularly credited with being worth.

ADVANTAGES OF CITY

(Communicated)

Alexandria, a city of nearly twenty thousand population, is just beginning to come to the front as a commercial metropolis as well as being one of the most important historical cities in the country.

With its many old original buildings and historic points of interest, which reflect the personal atmosphere of George Washington, General Lafayette, and other great men whose lives were linked with the colonial development and founding of our great nation and where relics of their daily lives may be viewed, no other city in the United States can compare with Alexandria as a point of interest in the heart of every American citizen.

As a coming commercial and industrial city, located, as it is, only six miles from the Nation's Capital, on the beautiful Potomac River, which is navigable to deep water vessels; with the great Potomac Freight Yards in its suburbs, where practically all of the freight to and from the entire South is transferred from one to the other of the six main railroads passing through the community. The great shipyard, government manufacturing plant, and other industries, now employing many mechanics form a solid basic foundation for an industrial community which should quickly stride to the front. There are unlimited numbers of ideal sites for industrial plants of every description, with both deep water and rail transportation facilities, and with a very small amount of normal encumbrance, a large number of new and thriving enterprises should be brought to the community.

The new suburban districts, recently built along the electric lines leading from the city, afford ample and comfortable housing facilities for the employees of these industries, while the many large and up-to-date stores and amusement places in Alexandria, and the proximity of the great city of Washington make it possible for the people to live comfortably, economically and happily.

It is apparent that Alexandria has the resources for making it one of the leading and best known cities in the country. However, without making proper use of these resources, and properly developing them, they will be dormant, and will benefit no one.

With the resources which this city has at its disposal, it could be and should be as widely known and as popular as the State of California. However, before the city can be properly advertised, and before any citizen can wholeheartedly boost it, it must be properly cleaned up and made really attractive.

The principal thing which Alexandria should do, and do right now, is to clean up King street. Hundreds of thousands of people from all over the world travel along King street every year, and the impression they get from what they see along this street is their impression of Alexandria.

King street sidewalks should be widened and properly paved, and drinking fountains installed. The old stone and iron steps which now extend several feet out into the sidewalk should be done away with. All the old barrels, boxes and other unsanitary obstructions should be removed from the street. The old lamp posts, electric wires and posts, and trees should be removed, and the wires put underground or run through the alleys. The heavy signs which now extend far out over the sidewalks endangering the lives of those who must walk under them, and shutting off the view up and down the street should be removed, and the placing of such signs should be restricted to such conditions as will be consistent with the safety of the public, as is done in practically every other modern city.

The valuable historical points and buildings should be catalogued, cleaned up and made accessible to the general public.

The city should build several up-to-date, sanitary lavatories, preferably underground, in the business section of the city, for the convenience of its own citizens as well as for the many strangers who visit the city each day, and especially Sundays.

No one who has had occasion to use the highway between this city and Washington need be told of its lamentable condition; nor need they be told that hundreds of strange motorists from all over the United States drive over this road every day on their way to Mt. Vernon and the south. Of course, it would be a difficult matter for the city of Alexandria to rebuild this road, but there is one thing which it could do right now, and that is to place signs at the crossroads and other points along this road directing motorists to "Alexandria and Mt. Vernon," with the wording "Placed by the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce" in smaller letters along the bottom.

A few large sign boards, telling of the points of interest and the industrial advantages of Alexandria should be placed along the roads, car tracks and railroads, coming into this city and Washington, D. C. and at other advantageous points. Particularly should an elaborate electric sign be erected facing the Union Station at Washington inviting the public to visit the prominent historical points at Alexandria and Mt. Vernon. Considerable assistance in the erection and maintenance of such signs should be obtained from the Washington and Virginia Railroad, as they should derive considerable benefit from them. They should also place cards in their cars telling of the points of interest in Alexandria.

For the benefit of both the traveling public and our own citizens, the street car company should make a number of badly needed improvements, especially in station facilities.

As a further great benefit to the community an artistic, modern highway should be built between Washington and Mt. Vernon, passing through the Alexandria National Park above proposed.

This should be a double road, at least 75 or 100 feet wide; one side being for heavy and the other for light traffic, with a green parkway in the center, and lined on both sides with big shade trees, with a half-moon of a 100 or more feet every half mile for parking purposes or the convenience of disabled cars. It should be well lighted along its entire length and designed and constructed in such a way as to be a fitting tribute to the greatness of the United States and especially to the Father of Our Country, with suitable statues of the Presidents and other great personages and other works of art distributed along its parkways.

At its terminals, near the end of the bridge on the Virginia side, and the entrance to the Mt. Vernon grounds, there should be parks of several acres, decorated with tablets, statues, artistic fountains and other works of art. The Mt. Vernon Park should be graded so as to be on a level with the entrance to the grounds with ample facilities for parking automobiles, comfort stations, and other up-to-date conveniences for the traveling public. This park should be kept free of undesirable private concessions such as lunch counters, news stands, etc., which would detract from the artistic beauty and dignity.

Undoubtedly the construction of such a Highway would cost millions of dollars and would take many years to complete. But the race and energy and money spent in its promotion by the citizens of this community would be negligible in comparison to the benefits received.

As for the actual expense of construction, this community should be able to secure ample funds for the purpose from Congress, or we should be able to secure the assistance of such men as Mr. Rockefeller, Henry Ford or a thousand other such men of our country who would gladly contribute the entire amount necessary for the opportunity to directly link their names with that of the Founder of Our Nation.

Gentlemen: Alexandria has the facilities for making her one of the liveliest best known and most popular cities in the United States. I have outlined here in, for your consideration and action, a number of methods, based upon my business experience and observations in all parts of the North American Continent, by which these ends may be attained with a minimum of expense and labor to the community. Their actual attainment depends entirely upon the initiative of the community.

There was a time, a few months ago, when houses for rent or for sale were conspicuous by their absence. When families were leaving the city for other places, owing to the fact that they were unable to beg, borrow or rent a place in which to live.

However, this condition does not exist in such great measure today. Houses are more plentiful now than at any time during the past few years but this condition may not remain.

Real Estate dealers throughout the city are continually asking the question—Why should a man pay a big rental for a house, when for a small initial cash payment, he can buy a piece of property and pay for it on the same conditions as paying rent for a home?

In an effort to further the purchasing of property, the various real estate dealers of the city have banded together and every Saturday they are planning to run a number of specially good bargains in real estate and it is to the best advantage of any prospective property owner in the city to read these advertisements, then make a personal visit to the offices or office and then visit the property and find out the value of the house or property advertised.

Don't fail to watch for this page of advertisements in every Saturday edition of the Gazette until further notice.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, Edward Beach, who died August 15, 1909, eleven years ago.

Dear husband, on you I could always depend,
And know that I had one true friend,
And all the time on earth you spent
Your heart and affections to me were bent,
Unknown and forgotten by some you may be,
But the grave that contains you is sacred to me.

By his loving wife, Addie Beach.

PLEASING WESTERN DRAMA

He got the coffin all ready for the highwayman who had tried to get fresh with him, invited Mr. Highwayman to step out into the road where there was no danger of injuring other people and then found that the perpetrator of the near joke had no stomach for a battle with him. He went into partnership with a couple of crooks in an oil swindle, discovered oil and the crookedness of his partner at the same time and as the old saying goes, "got the girl and the pickle factory and lived happily ever after."

All this is shown in the big William Fox special featuring Tom Mix that was shown to a large audience at every performance last evening. The name of the picture is "Three Gold Coins," and after shooting holes through these coins, they were given to him and proved to be lucky talismans throughout the stirring events that followed.

This picture is, without a doubt, one of the best of the Tom Mix specials that have appeared in this city in the past several months. It is accompanied by a Sunshine comedy that is above the average as every person attending the theatre last evening expressed a good opinion of "Through the Keyhole," which is the title of this bit of fun and laughter.

Oneonta, N. Y., Aug. 13.—A young man, who, State troopers say, answers the description of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the wealthy draft evader, who escaped from the custody of the military authorities, was arrested by two troopers ten miles west of here today. The suspect denied that he was Bergdoll and gave his name as George Lenno, of Buffalo.

DANGERS OF A COLD

Alexandria People Will Do Well to Heed Them

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Alexandria resident's example:
C. E. Davis, fireman, truck and engine company No. 1, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for a good many years and they have always given me wonderful relief. My trouble has been brought on by being out in all kinds of weather and catching colds which settle in my kidneys. Then my back gets sore and weak and I can hardly get around. The kidney secretions will pass irregularly and make me get up often at night. However, I find I can rely on Doan's Kidney Pills to give me the desired relief. My kidneys have never been in bad condition since I started using Doan's Kidney Pills for those attacks."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Davis had. Foster Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
